Toy Young, twenty-two years old, one of the prisoners taken yesterday, has confessed starting a number of lires, the police say. A search of his rooms revealed a quantity of new overalls, shoes, boys shirts and other articles of apparel.

Mobilization of Troops.

The absence of outbreaks last night and to-day has set many citizens to discussing the possibility of an early evacuation of the city by the troops. It is probable, however, that the military will remain until the special grand jury, summoned to-day, has completed its report and returned indictments. The force in hand will not be added to, however, the 4,200 soldiers now encamped in the public squares and streets being sufficient to cover the city so thoroughly that there is slight chance for a mob to storm any point.

The mobilization of the troops has

The mobilization of the troops has been one of the most rapid evolutions in the history of the State militia. Ten minutes after Sheriff Warner had told minutes after Sheriff Warner had told Colonel R. J. Sands, of the Aljutant General's office, that soldiers were necessary, the Springfield companies had been ordered to arms. From then until daybreak this morning, when five troops of the First Cavalry arrived from Chicago, militiamen have been pouring into the State capital from all quarters of the Commonwealth. Despite the haste of the movement, the commissary and the quartermaster departments have withstood the strain. A few companies were compelled to spend their first night in the streets without blankets or shelter, and others went supperiess to bed after their striyal.

He Simply Couldn't Live Without His Dear, Dear Terrier.

PHILADELPHIA, August 17.—Because his wife had sold his pet foxterier to get money for food, August Schafer, a cook, out of work, the police say, attempted suicide last evening in his home, in No. 1713 First Avenue, by drinking carbolic acid and the contents of a bottle of liniment containing morphine.

Schafer has been out of work for about two weeks. He was overcome by the heat several days ago and since has been despondent. The police said that yesterday afternoon his wife, needing money to purchase food, sold her husband's dog, Tessie, when the cook was absent from the house.

When Schafer returned in the evening and learned of the sale of the dog he told'his wife that unless she got it back in half an hour he would commit suicide.

The haft-hour passed and as Tessie did not appear Schafer went to his bedroom and drank the poison. Then he screamed and alarmed his wife, who called in Patrolman O'Brien, of the East Eighty-eighth Street Police Station. The patrolman summoned an ambulance from the Presbyterian Hospital and Dr. Roome took Schafer to that institution a prisoner on the charge of attempted suicide. The cook will live, the surgeons say.

If we are to strengthen our position in China commercially, or even maintain our present position, the producers at home must disabuse their minds of the idea that anything is good enough for China, and put goods in this market of such quality and under such representations that will render practically impossible an occurrence such as this under consideration.
